

Young Wolves

Demotional

Have you been told you don't belong?
That everything you do is wrong
Can't catch a break, it just goes on and on and on and on
Doesn't matter what you say, they won't listen anyway

But they will surely learn a lesson down the line
Soon it is my turn. They will learn in time

Who's gonna catch them safely, when they fall?
Who's gonna take the blame and run it all?
Who's gonna lead the future after all?
The young wolves
Who's gonna rest their bones when they grow old?
Who's gonna keep them warm when they get cold?
Who's gonna hold their hands after all?
The young wolves

Every day is just the same
You will always take the blame
There's no hope
There is no reason in the games they play
And when all your friends are gone
You've got me to hold on
A new day will come

Who's gonna catch them safely when they fall?
Who's gonna take the blame and run it all?
Who's gonna lead the future after all?
The young wolves
Who's gonna rest their bones when they grow old?
Who's gonna keep them warm when they get cold?
Who's gonna hold their hands after all?
The young wolves
The young wolves

A place and time for everything
One day they will beg for what you bring
So I just bite my tongue and exercise patience
Go ahead and walk all over me
Lay here on your crumbling foundation
I can guarantee you will see

One day all your friends are gone
But you'll have me to hold on
A new day will come

Who's gonna catch them safely when they fall?
Who's gonna take the blame and run it all?
Who's gonna lead the future after all?
The young wolves
Who's gonna rest their bones when they grow old?
Who's gonna keep them warm when they get cold?
Who's gonna hold their hands after all?
The young wolves
