

Human Reset

Derdian

Everyday the prophecy
Rings out in my confused mind without reason
It resounds so noisily, suffocating with its signs
Upsetting my world,
defeating my lord:
lord of growth, modernization and asphalt and all you can touch with your fucking hands You've pretended not to be part of nature

Nothing can take off my mind the day I woke up too late to set my incredulous eyes on the last bloody fight Thousands of corpses were spread along the road, everywhere in the square... everybody without head!
Burning skyscrapers fell down under a strange and eerie attack!
X-rays by dark ships were fired, they can control the field of G
What the hell was I looking there?
Maybe the end of planet Earth?

All is lost during the useless fight
and they are canceling all our civilization,
now the apocalypse has come
They come here just to destroy our kind Bending the space-time they've come to protect our wonderful land

To the wild we shall return
all of our world will be burnt
so we will hide in the jungle thinking 'bout the end
of our old life and all it meant
Living the "Human Reset"!

Look at the hordes of survivors run escaping from the shots!

they know that we don't deserve
Nothing but to be considered some grubs
So this is the reason why They're goin' to smashing us tonight!

All is lost during this useless fight
and they are canceling all our civilization,
now the apocalypse has come
They have well understood we're just a cancer for the Universe

To the wild we shall return
all of our world will be burnt
so we will hide in the jungle thinking 'bout the end
of our old life and all it meant
Living the "Human Reset"!

We're had good warnings,
many clues in our daily life
We've been at crossroad, we got worng...
now we pay
There's no use to fight,
but few will got their second chance:
day after day after years they will find a way out to get balance with life

To the wild we shall return
all of our world will be burnt
so we will hide in the jungle thinking 'bout the end
of our old life and all it meant
Living the "Human Reset"!

We don't fall!
Save your souls!
Everybody'll die here!
We'll stay here!
We're your fear!
Human race's fucked up!
