

Shelter

Dermot Kennedy

So step inside
'Cause that night is cold, it don't deserve such a smile
It's not enough
For it to show up every once in a while

In the moonlight, I should
Kiss you at Samhain, throw it all down
Wouldn't that be cool?
To kill the guards, open the gates, for feelings unbound

But I've been keeping hope
I've got a fairytale in my heart, I can cope

I've been keeping hope
Bet they had you in mind when naming the rose

Only know 'bout how I won't be here later
Don't forget, 'bout how she had you feeling major
He tried to write down how he felt 'bout the girl
Kept running out of paper. He'll wait for her

He was feeling fucking awesome
Be a good man like you taught him
Don't get caught up in caution when love exists

So step inside
'Cause that night is cold, it don't deserve such a smile

We'll be alright
I could never lie about caring a lot
