

A Touch Of Medieval Darkness

Desaster

A night by the castle's side, enjoy the power of the silence and obscure nature, feel the forgotten spirits the last weak light is burning on my skin when i feel the shadows a message of the night

mountains rise
before the dying sun night will rise till the next short day

all sunlight is gone black clouds wander i sit under the night sky by the castle's side

dream and reality unite everything seems endless the pictures of the time here they rule forever

through the depths of mind i fly alone crossing ages so dark when the lie was brought shadows dance around me a whispering into my ear those who died proud take me to their realm

faster goes my journey deeper in the time will i reach my goal before dawn will rise ?

horses storm through valleys warriors call my name the skyline is in flame blood drops in my hands a travel in eternity passing my whole life wounded is my body in which battle i fought ?

sorrow falls upon me i dream in time and space i fought i fly eternally a sunbeam kills my dream...
