

Theme for a Taiwanese Woman in Lime Green

Devendra Banhart

Love, don't you worry
Even though it's time to go
While I know you've gotta hurry

Do it slow
I wanna love you once more
Even though we've never loved before

I know so very little about so many things
I know so much about nothing
But our kiss began (?)
There's no one in the world that
I love
And that no one is you

Now I embody
Same song stuck on repeat
Drunk (?) in the lobby
(?) on the beach
I wanna love you again
Even though we've yet to even meet

Love's the only lesson everyone knows how to teach
And love's only ever pretending to be out of reach
And nearly next to me

There's no one in the world that
I love
And that no one is you
I can't wait to close my mouth and not
Say a thing
But love's making me sing
