Is Anybody Loving You These Days

Dierks Bentley

Midnight stoplight, happens everytime Pretty girl in a car No resemblance whatsoever I wonder how you are Constant question poundin' inmy brain Is anybody lovin' you these days Lonesome pillow sun comes yellow I reach across the bed Should be hurried workin' worries I lie there instead With the thought that's drivin' me insane Is anybody lovin' you these days

Damn this small town every place that I go I drive by your house, I see his car and I know He's there with you, but when he kisses you Think about the memories we made, and tell me Is anybody lovin' you these days

Second chances, backward glances Most people just say no World keeps turnin', heart keeps yearnin' I keep holdin' the hope One day you might answer with my name Is anybody lovin' you these days
