

Changes

Dima Bilan

Isn't it another thing that you've said?
Isn't it another thing that you've done?
Isn't it another thing that I think we could overcome?
It's not even a fight we could blame
Lover that I could name
It's harder to take when things ain't so quietly

Slowly they start,
cracks in your heart
'Till all you know is drifting apart

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you feel wrong
And you know what's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's ok
Cause everything changes, changes, changes

There is nothing in the past I regret
Knowing than I'm man enough for it
I will never want to forget these memories
I'm looking for somebody else
I'm trying to find myself
Its been nice for so long
Who did I used to be

This is a role
I don't want to play
Try to find a way I can see

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you feel wrong
And you know what's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's ok
Cause everything changes, changes, ganges

If we listened to ourselves
We'd know it's time for something new to start
Cause our heart
Changes, changes, changes

I'm going through changes
All the things I've had are new
That I wanna hear with you feel wrong
And you know what's strangest?
I think you feel the same
Don't let guilt make you stay, it's ok
Cause everything changes, changes, changes