

I've Seen The Future

Disco Ensemble

In the cool, I pass the crystal ball,
Things start to get shape in me.
This close given time, you just thought I signed,
You know it's all too clear.

How can you just trust me?
You don't even know me.
How can you just trust me?
You don't even know me.

Here I am, the exit's filled with
Memories on the door, stop preach me.
Death of statues pointed out a fusion,
Give me your hand, give me your hand.

I've seen the future, I've seen the future, I've seen the future.

How can you just trust me?
You don't even know me.
How can you just trust me?
You don't even know me.

I've seen the future, I've seen the future, I've seen the future.
It's a cold and empty place,
It's a mind without a face.
I've seen the future, I've seen the future, I've seen the future.
It's still longing in my heart,
It's a bottle in my car.

[illegible]

It's a cold and empty place,
It's a mind without a face.
It's still longing in my heart,
It's a bottle in my car.
