

We Are What We Are

DJ Bobo

We are angels and now how to live in darkness
We are living a life so bizzare
We are angels and destined to stay a live
We are what we are
We are angels and now how to live in darkness
We are living a life so bizzare
We are angels and destined to stay a live
We are what we are

They're coming at midnight, they're coming for you
The shadows are flying right out of the blue
They're like an illusion, live under a spell
Appearing from nowhere, they'll trapped in a shell

They are wrapped, in silence
They stay forever young
They can fly, in the moonlight
Their journey has begun

The children of darkness, live life so bizarre
They are silent strangers, they are what they are
They live for the moment, don't care 'bout the past
The childhood's eternal so restless and fast

Can you feel, the shadows
The mystic of the night
Can you feel, the deamons
Among us fearing the light
