Yeah, Willie The Kid Bright lights, street lights

Summertime in apartment 409
Had to clean up the kitchen with 409
It was cookin' up work, while my granny at work
My big 'cause he ain't understand me at first

He said, the court room or the casket I'm like dude, either way you need cash and a nice suit The street lights where I found my strength Be with four rich men, and you bound to be the fifth Let's go

I lost my daddy at a early age
Told my mama don't cry for me
If I trade tomorrow in for yesterday
Oh, how much different my life would be

But that's in my dreams, back to reality Tryna get outta these street lights So I won't have to live this street life

No more, no more No more, no more No

Just gotta learn to deal with problems
If you're young and from slum with no father
Got killed when you was little, still got mama
She try to tell him go to school, but why bother

When gettin' paid is the only way to solve 'em Seems the stars get farther and farther Out of my reach, out of these streets Will they ever make it big?

'Cause I lost my daddy at a early age Told my mama don't cry for me If I trade tomorrow in for yesterday Oh, how much different my life would be

But that's in my dreams, back to reality Tryna get outta these street lights So I won't have to live this street life

No more, no more No more, no more

I ain't ashamed to say that I shed a tear
Thinkin' 'bout my dad, I wish I had him back
I'd give up everythin' just to have him here
After this storm and rain I have no fear
Gotta keep holdin' on, hold my head up strong
I know it won't be long until we'll be together again, fo real

I'm livin' for the moment

If I could turn back the days, sure you could turn this back

Hey, I was born with the hustle, never been a sucker

Daddy wasn't in the crib, that made me tougher

Momma struggled with the bills, that made me stuff up

Powder in a sack which made me dumber Now I'm standin' on the corner, bag full of marijuana, crack Pistol my pocket for anybody who disrespect In the trap chillin' where robbers and killers kick it at

My arms up in the feds for ten, they say I'm goin' in Ha, bet that I'm a stretch that, backish to this rappers Show these niggas what I'm best at Get a lil' check, flip it and invest that

Years later, oh now you see what my heads at Like meals chasers, we be everywhere the bread at You keep on hatin', you'll be layin' where the dead at You rappers suckers, you can tell them that I said that If nothin' else but the hustle, you gon' respect that

Oh yeah, I lost my daddy at a early age Told my mama don't cry for me If I trade tomorrow in for yesterday Oh, how much different my life would be

But that's in my dreams, back to reality Tryna get outta these street lights So I won't have to live this street life

No more, no more No more, no more No

Guess this is my life and I wanna live it right I don't wanna run the streets no more, no I don't wanna run the streets no more, no
