

I Really Don't Want To Know

Dottie West

How many arms have held you
And hated to let you go?
How many, how many I wonder?
But I really don't want to know

How many lips have kissed you
And set your soul aglow?
How many, how many I wonder?
Oh, I really don't want to know

So always make me wonder
Always make me guess
And even if I ask you
Sweetheart, don't confess

Yes, just let it remain your secret
Cause darling, I love you so
And it's no wonder, no wonder, I wonder
But I really don't want to know
Honey, I really don't want to know
