

Sweet Poison

Dragonette

Poison, sweet poison
Poison, sweet poison

The colours bleed
Our city's streets
Are morphing into every single memory
And all we've been
All we could be
Is hanging by a thread that we keep tangling

You're playing with my mind
I'm messing with your time
We're two wrongs that don't make a right
A little bit of love
For a little bit of hurt
We'll forget it for one more night

Night time voices
Same bad choices
Poison, sweet poison
I can feel
I can feel

With blurry eyes
And lonely skin
We slam into each other like an accident
We'll go all night
We'll dance again
Repeat the steps in places we took pictures in

You're playing with my mind
I'm messing with your time
We're two wrongs that don't make a right
A little bit of love
For a little bit of hurt
We'll forget it for one more night

Night time voices
Same bad choices
Poison, sweet poison
I can feel
I can feel
