

Midnight Thoughts

Dream On, Dreamer

Show me what my dreams are made of!
Believe me, we're coming home.
We keep marching cause we're heading north.
With the sun guiding into every song.
I swear won't fail we be taking long.
We shape our world with hands of stone.
No matter how far we've come.
Sleepless nights are our closest friends.
With no clouds above my head keep singing.

In your own head you feel the light dim fast.
And it look no further.
Deep inside hiding from yourself.
I wont hold you back no longer.
What we said, we want, we said, we could...
What you said we were we ended up being.
What we said we want we said we could...
What you said we were we ended up being.

when you burn for something.
You're left with nothing.
When you burn for something
You're left with noting.
when I swallow the fire
It doesn't burn no more.
When I swallow the fire
It doesn't burn no more.
It only sets alight the sparkle
in order to win this war.
when I swallow the fire
It doesn't burn no more.
It only sets alight the sparkle
in order to win this war.

Show me what my dreams are made of!
Believe me, we're coming home.
We keep marching cause we're heading north.
With the sun guiding into every song.
I swear won't fail we be taking long.
We shape our world with hands of stone.
No matter how far things seem to become.
Sleepless nights are our closest friends.
With no clouds above my head keep singing.

Believe me, we're coming home.
We keep marching cause we're heading north.
With the sun guiding into every song.
I swear won't fail we be taking long.
We shape our world with hands of stone.
No matter how far we've come.
Sleepless nights are our closest friends.
With no clouds above my head keep singing.
When you burn for something
You're left with noting.
When you burn for something
