

Stay

Dream On, Dreamer

You keep wondering if I can taste the fear that's Crawling from your eyes
All this wasn't meant to hurt so much to say

On fire like lovers in the rain
Just stay
Cut through the ice so I can breathe
Just stay

When the world has lost it's colour
Just say you'll stay

Tear me down
Break the walls within
Hold me up
Before I cave-in

Hope keeps
Holding onto something I can't feel
When I'm out of my own sight
All this
Wasn't meant to hurt so much to say

I was headed for the sun
When the rain was near
I kept chasing the light
When the sky wasn't clear

On fire like lovers in the rain
Just stay
Cut through the ice so I can breathe
Just stay

My comfort my hope,
The only one who knows that the wolves at the door,
They're tearing brand new holes in my heart but I see you,
You give me brand new meaning.
You fill me with love.
I'll hold you as you seal it in.

On fire like lovers in the rain
Just stay
Cut through the ice so I can breathe
Just stay

When the world has lost its colour, and the walls are caving in.
There's nothing but the future left, so let me live
Forget all of our horrors and say you'll, stay with...
