

As One

Dropkick Murphys

Tonight my son I'll heed the call. If you're to live, then I must fall.

Just give me one more moment, another walk out in the sun one more day to find some justice with your shadow by my side Cuff me, tie me, lock me down, cause I'll be back to go another round

As one- my blood runs red beneath the night, I'll give my soul to you tonight

From early on I was on my own with no light to guide my way, then the hand of destiny called me only now I understand Interwoven our lives became, bonded by blood, no need to be repayed

As one...

Just give me one more moment with your shadow by my side and we will always be together as one
