

the hand of death is lifted across the land the blight exterminates none able to withstand demonic misanthropes unseen killing wins intentionally set upon humanity airborne agents infect from the contagions inhaled the particles transmit till immune systems fail lives taken slowly as he sickness spreads no cure to defend no cure to reverse one by one - struck down nations end, cities fall with the silent dead nations end, cities fill with the silent death man's creations collapse under the elements buildings slowly crumble away in the stillness lives taken slowly as the sickness spreads no cure to defend no cure to reverse ony by one - struck down natinos end, cities fall with the silent dead nations end, cities fill with the silent dead the skyline decays now nature reclaims the earth vegetation returns civilisations fade birds above beasts below urbanscape unrecognizable through broken canyons streams flow free fractured streets are filled with trees moss covered concrete in ruins in the absence of humans their lives taken slowly as the sickness spreads no cure to defend no cure to reverse ony by one - struck down nations end, cities fall with the silent dead nations end, cities fill,
with the silent dead
