

Maybe Tomorrow

Eddie Money

Down on the corner
I've been spending my time
I've seen it on the streets at night
I've been watchin' the show
It's electric I know
I feel like something's winding up real tight

I was shakin' my head
Was it somethin' she said
Something written on a subway wall
In silent conversations
I feel the revelations
It's like waiting for the sky to fall

Maybe tomorrow, maybe today
I see some changes coming my way
If I gotta beg, steal or borrow, what can I say
Maybe tomorrow, maybe today

Lately it seems that I've run out of dreams
I know that I've been acting strange
Now machines with no faces
Are taking everyone's places
It's no way to treat a human being

Staying in bed
I've seen it all in my head
I know it all could come my way
I'm just trying to hang on
I've been waiting so long
It's calling me I hear it say

Maybe tomorrow, maybe today
I see some changes coming my way
If I gotta beg, steal or borrow, what can I say
Maybe tomorrow, maybe today

I've been waiting
When will love be staying?
What's the future saying?
I don't know
Time is taking
Will the rules be breaking?
Will my world be changing?
I don't know

Maybe tomorrow, maybe today
I see some changes coming my way
If I gotta beg, steal or borrow, what can I say
Maybe tomorrow, maybe today
