

In The Now

Edwyn Collins

What you see represents
A cottage by the sea
Where I come as a boy
In the summer of my youth
Looking back, looking forward
It's strange to me

But I'm living in the now
Living and working
And I'm breathing in the now
Working and breathing

What you see, what you sense
There's a carefree sensation
In my mind, there's a space
For my thoughts and dreams
My plan for my life
Is broke on the wind

But I'm living in the now
Living and working
And I'm breathing in the now
Working and breathing

Racing through my landscape
It's wild and free

But I'm living in the now
Living and working
And I'm breathing in the now
Working and breathing

And I'm living in the now
Working and breathing
And I'm living in the now
Working and breathing
