[Music & Lyrics: Aydan] I was told by my Grandma' Many years ago, I was just a child "Boy, go and grow as an honest man Look on what you've done with pride!" The years have passed I'm a normal lad I won't be named in school treatises But looking back on what I've done Yes, there's a glimpse of pride! The losers' ball - Dance with me To the sound of the fiddle For the ones who fall - Like a cloudless Sky reflected in a billow Learn a new step for each new Babylon (build the city of lies and despair) If you have time send a message To every form of human life "Hey out there if someone listens This way we won't survive!" We'll be drawn in arrogance Hanged by the noose of greed A new religion of violence A bible of bad deeds The losers' ball - Dance with me To the sound of the fiddle For the ones who fall - Like a cloudless Sky reflected in a billow Learn a new step for each new Babylon (build the city of lies-lust-despair)
