Long Way Down

Enchant

Dark day in paradise Tantalized by my eyes mislead This one you've got to see And her gaze, it is set on me

Not like I would push the brink But it sure makes me think

Maybe I need a change Otherwise would my eyes so stray A choice is taunting me And it knocks on my door today

Not like any vows were bent Just a glance, it's innocent

Long way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mend

Take it from me, it's never worth the cost Been down that road before And demise is where it leads The grass looks emerald green But believe me, it's just the weeds

Not like I have crossed the line Owed her a lunch and a valentine

It's propagation man
Don't you know that a guy has needs
What separates us then
From those things that are scratching fleas?
Am I just a sounding board?
Were you hoping for accord?

Long way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mend

Take it from me, it's never worth the cost
I just cringe thinking what I could have lost
It seems you're looking for consent to do the same

Where's your memory? Don't you remember me? The weight of agony that crushed me flat Are you impervious or just too curious? Don't you remember what it did to the cat?

Guess what I did today Now I fear there's no turning back Hey, next time you need advice Check the zodiac

Not like I didn't warn

Buckle up, enjoy the storm

Long way down

Don't you think you're too close to the edge

Turn around

Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mend

Long way down
Don't you think you're too close to the edge
Turn around
some wounds are so deep, they'll never mend

Long way down
What's it gonna be, what's it gonna be, my friend?
Turn around
Some wounds are so deep, they'll never mend

Long way down
What's it gonna be, my friend?
Turn around
