Demon

Entombed

Demon, come live in me Possession, fill me with disease Temptation, a fire set aflame Feral instincts help me go insane

Shameless, searching endlessly To appease the burning urge in me Hunger of a thousand wolverines Satisfaction by any means

Demon, replace all I've been taught
Impulse, erase all second thought
Gambling in this carnal game
Nothing is all where everything's the same

Trembling in the balance
Exploring new extremes
All sweet forms of self-destruction
Coming to me in my dreams

Thoughts of cruelty and pain
In my brain, in my blood
Lose control of lust and anger

Demon!
