Heart of Stone

I cry for your heart of stone I'm gonna wait until you come home Oh why am I all alone? I'm as good as dead yeh

Ooh I lost my sense of passion and direction To protect myself from hurting and despair Listen to my heart my soul is aching Fool or saint? 'Cause you went and left me And you so upset me

I can't believe that you would ever find it easy To walk away as if you'd never really cared Did you expect that I'd give in and beg for mercy Out in the gutter Out in the gutter

I cry for your heart of stone I'm gonna wait until you come home Oh why am I all alone? I'm as good as dead yeh

Ooh I look back on the first night with affection And if you had a heart that you'd remember too The way we used to run around like little children Fool or a saint? My mother told me You'd be no good for me

I cry for your heart of stone I'm gonna wait until you come home Oh why am I all alone? I'm as good as dead yeh

Out in the gutter I've got to break that heart of stone

I cry for your heart of stone (I been worried about you baby) Oh when am I all alone (I been worried about you baby) I'm as good as dead yeh (I want you back)
