

Black River

Escape With Romeo

The weight of the century there's always been too much gravity sleep by the water and fear the flood a crystal vision in the eyes of god now the world becomes transparent happy laughter and deep torment bright mornings and endless nights nameless lovers and parasites

My dream is a
black river
is a black river

I can see the sun from here I'm underwater and I got no fear where light and darkness meet you hear music so bittersweet on a raft I'm floating on no one noticed that I am gone in the silence sweet and sublime whers sand is gliding through the hands of time

My dream...
