

Outta Here

Esmée Denters

Get me outta here
'Cause my eyes are burning from these silly tears
That you brought when you show me you don't really care
And you never loved me, someone get me outta this place right now

It's so amazing
How you have so many faces
And you are not that person I thought
That I had fell so deep in love with

You changed up your makeup, your DNA
I can't recognize, you're a stranger to me
I feel so betrayed, what a waste of my heart and me

Get me outta here
'Cause my eyes are burning from these silly tears
That you brought when you show me you don't really care
And you never loved me, someone get me outta this place right now

My body's trembling
It's so, so hard to kick this feeling
Your heart is so cold and now I'm freezing
Wish you could feel the pain, maybe I will arrange it
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

You changed up your makeup, your DNA
I can't recognize, you're a stranger to me
I feel so betrayed, what a waste of my heart and me

Get me outta here
'Cause my eyes are burning from these silly tears
That you brought when you show me you don't really care
And you never loved me, someone get me outta this place

I thought that we were forever
I guess I misunderstood
My fault for thinking you loved me
Or even thinking you ever could

Get me out of here right now
Get me out of here right now

Get me outta here
'Cause my eyes are burning from these silly tears
That you brought when you show me you don't really care
And you never loved me, someone get me outta this place

Get me outta here
'Cause my eyes are burning from these silly tears
That you brought when you show me you don't really care
And you never loved me, someone get me outta this place

Someone get me outta this place
Someone get me outta this place
Get me outta here
