

Woman

Esmée Denters

She's smart, she's kind, she's strong, she's powerful
No man could ever bring her down
She laughs, she cries, she gets emotional
She may not be royalty but she deserves a crown

She's a mother, daughter, sister and a friend
She loves with all of her heart
She'll loyal, forgiving, but she don't mess around
Watch you 'cause she'll tear you apart

They never see us coming
They don't all treat us like we deserve
Try to buy us with their money
Yeah they clearly don't know what we're worth

Don't ever apologize for being
A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman
Don't ever apologize for being
A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman

She's fierce, determined and unstoppable
Don't underestimate what she can do, oh no, no
Her beauty is reflected in her soul
She's more than what meets the eye, don't you be fooled

She's a mother, daughter, sister and a friend
She loves with all of her heart
She'll loyal, forgiving, but she don't mess around
Watch you 'cause she'll tear you apart

They never see us coming
They don't all treat us like we deserve
Try to buy us with their money
Yeah they clearly don't know what we're worth

Don't ever apologize for being
A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman
Don't ever apologize for being
A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman

She knows just what she wants she's gonna get it, oh
She don't need permission to be who she is

They never see us coming
They don't all treat us like we deserve
Try to buy us with their money
Yeah they clearly don't know what we are worth

A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman
Don't ever apologize for being
A powerful fucking woman, woman, woman

So don't you ever apologize, no, no, no, no, no
You should know you're powerful
