You've Got A Problem

Face to Face

so what's the problem this time? I thought you'd learn by now that nothing ever works out right you want to take away the edge you tell me it's the only thing that helps you forget you've made your promises that's not enough this time there's only so much you can squander from a feeble mind you've got a problem with your life you've got a problem with your mind don't try to tell me that you think it's going to work out fine so go ahead and try to hide the world around you watches on as you destroy you life do what your problem says there's not a lot of time there's only so much you can squander from a feeble mind you've got a problem with your life
