Keep it up

You went out on a cold night Saw something one dare Not to think about To think about

Since then you were never the same Had a hard time seeing me And everyone else

What will you need To keep it up How long will you need To figure it out?

You dragged yourself down starting with Leaving your job your friends and family

All you said was that everything Spins around and around And it it drives you mad

What will you need To keep it up How long will you need To figure it out?
