

God of Fire

Fit for a King

Step into the dark of eternity
Feed of the flames of your sanity
Step into the dark of eternity
God of fire

Step into the dark

All they want is to save your soul
But this cleansing comes with a price
Don't give into your desires
Bow down to the God of fire

Bow down

False idols fill the air with smoke and glass
Their lies so easy to sell when death is in our heads
Repent now or burn at the pyre
Bow down to the God of fire

Bow down to the God of fire

Split tongues, sharpen the blades
The war ends when they say
They don't care. They won't learn
Sit back and watch the world burn

Do you hear the cries of humanity?
Their pain only means something if they bow and recite the words they feed
Heavens gates blocked with barbed wire
Bow down to the God of fire

Bow down to the God of fire
Bow down to the God of fire
