

Hurricanes

Five Iron Frenzy

Yo toda via espero un milagro, the longest shadows have been cast. The sunlight is fading, Yo toda via te espero a ti. Like songs from a siren, hurricanes from the past. so let me lie here, defeated every time, a sidewalk for a shrine. Chorus: And I am a failure, I am so lonely, they say you were lonely too. I wait for you. Dear God be my savior, My broken spirit, is trembling slow. Park bench for a throne now, my blanket is the snow. by long forgotten dreams, And I'm being haunted, the bluest eyes I've ever seen. for hurricanes have, I am pining for your mercy, for this storm to break, Lord you are my comfort, the hope for which I wait.
