

Nothing I Could See Of Her

Five Times August

One thought of you is all I've got
One part of you is all I want
So where do I go from here?

Some thoughts of me are all you have
Some parts of me you won't give back
So where do I go from here, now that you're not here?

Cause I can't take this any longer
And I'm not getting any stronger

You said that you would never lie
Now I can't believe what's in your eyes
You said you'd never lie

Now I can't take this any longer
And I'm not getting any stronger

In all of love, she had enough
She ran away from me
'til there was nothing I could see of her

Now I can't take this any longer
And I'm not getting any stronger
