

The Golden Age

Flaming Lips

In this place we lie
Cutting slightly in vain
Hoping and praying you'll remember my name
In only tonight
And only tonight
You'll write back here I swear I'm done

Take your advice 'cos it's easy to see
This so called romance never wanted me
If only tonight
And maybe tonight
You write back here, I swear I'll Cut, till crimson falls
Over the bedroom walls

So will you lay me down tonight
And we'll be better off today
And I would die if you never got to know
But would it do more harm this way?

Between you and I it's the 2.step I crave morbidly swaying to a dting refrain
If only tonight, and maybe tonight
You write back here
(I'm so sincere)

So will you lay me down tonight
And we'll be better off today
And I would die if you never got to know
But would it do morw harm this way?
