

The Sound of Failure / It's Dark... Is It Always This Dark??

Flaming Lips

She is starting to live her life
From the inside out
Sound of failure calls her name
She's decided to hear it out

So go tell Britney
And go tell Gwen
She's not trying to go
Against all them

Cause she's too scared, and she
She can't pretend
To understand where it begins or ends
Or what it means to be dead
It's just a sound going through your head
Let them go on, let them go on

Standing there in the graveyard
While the moon sprays its fireworks in your hair
The sound of failure calls her name
She's decided to hear it out

So go tell Britney
And go tell Gwen
She's not trying to go
Against all them

Cause she's too scared, and she
She can't pretend
To understand where it begins or ends
Or what it means to be dead
It's just a sound going through your head
Let them go on, let them go on

Where it begins or ends
What it means to be dead
It's just a sound going through your head
Let them go on, let them go on

Where it begins or ends
Or what it means to be dead
It's just a sound going through your head
Let them go on, let them go on

She doesn't know where it will take her
And she's going into the unknown
