

Safety Net

Framing Hanley

It's 1 am, you're probably sleeping
But I'm still up, my mind is vacant
These are the times you talk sense into me
You're numbing down, you're the voice the speaks
That brings me back to reality
You pick me up and push me on again

I could climb the highest mountain
With you by my side, I'd be dead if you were gone

Whenever I fall, you're my safety net
The only reason I'm still in one piece
At my darkest hour, you radiate
Light up the room and give me faith in life
Its just no safer than, than my safety net

Five years ago, i never saw this coming
I was younger, I was dumb and
And you were patient, waiting in the wings
I never thought, this is where we were headed
You could have left, but stayed instead
The only constant in this craziness

Whenever I fall, you're my safety net
The only reason I'm still in one piece
At my darkest hour, you radiate
Light up the room and give me faith in life
Its just no safer than, than my safety net

Brave the mortal sin
This isn't who I am
Scatter in the wind and drift away
Stars all go down
Your light still remains
Steady through the change, you stayed
You're always there

Whenever I fall, you're my safety net
The only reason I'm still in one piece
At my darkest hour, you radiate
Light up the room and give me faith in life
It's just no safer than
Save me tonight
It's just no safer than, so be my safety net
