

There's something that I need to know
Thinking we should take it slow
Hear you talking in your sleep
Saying things you can't repeat
Cause in the daylight you'll change your mind
There's no more shadows for you to hide
Cause now I'm thinking that you're wishing for another man
Now come on honey don't you understand

When you close your eyes
You're speaking through the night
Now I'll lie wide awake
Hearing what you say

So tell me girl when you wake up
Baby am I good enough
Am I good enough, oh

Don't pretend you didn't see
Exactly what you've done to me
See it written on your sleeve
But this isn't jealousy
When we first met you turned me on
And now I feel like we got it wrong
I think proud enough to know how the story goes
Sad to think we'll never know

[x2]

When you close your eyes
You're speaking through the night
Now I'll lie wide awake
Hearing what you say

So tell me girl when you wake up
Baby am I good enough
Am I good enough, Oh
