

Taking Your Time

Frankmusik

Life's mysteries
You came and answered every one for me
I resist, you persist
I didn't count on falling suddenly

Yeah, you got me good
Giving you my heart
Waiting 'round for us to start
And there you go
Baby, tell me why
Can't you just make up your mind?

You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time

You're taking your time, time, time, time
You're taking your time, time, time, time

I'll wait it's true
But only if you really want me to
I withdrew, still you move
[?] my only hope was you

You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time
You're taking your time

You're taking your time, time, time, time
You're taking your time, time, time, time

Taking your time
Taking your time
Taking your time
Taking your time, time, time, time

You're taking your time
Taking your time
Taking your time
You're taking your time

You're taking your time, time, time, time
You're taking your time, time, time, time