

The End - Deliverance

Frozen Plasma

Today as I passed by
I saw the brown leaves
Dropping from their tree
Which now all withering lay
Like snowflakes falling on dry clay
In a still afternoon

I wandered slowly there
An angel standing in a tainted land
Surrounded by great secrecy
Purple winds went moaning
Turned black and sank

I wandered slowly there
I saw a field where a thousand corpses lie
Angels sang the hymn of the end
About monsters which they fought
Over our world

My eden shines but altered stained
A place to whom a light remained
And then I saw
I saw the last few angels eyes
Enchanted grounds blue sea blue skies
Before the bed my bed of death
A kiss your lips inhaled the breath
Love still beside us as I left

My eden shines but altered stained
A place to whom a light remained
And then I lost
I lost my soul total eclipse
Felt dews of darkness on your lips
Before the bed my bed of death
A kiss your lips inhaled the breath
Love still beside us as I left
