Fruit Bats

You ought to be careful when putting your heart out there
'Cause some people are bound to be mean
You say you're never going to feel that
But you haven't heard it all yet

You'd best be aware when you're drinking the water
There could be some poison in there
You say you're in tune with this
But you should know you're not immune, kid

Please don't get me wrong, bad things might not happen to you
Please believe me when I say I hope all your wishes come true
All your wishes come true
All your wishes come true

You'd better be mindful when stating your opinions
Until you know exactly what you wanna say

'Cause you say you know what's up
But you don't know what's what yet

And please be careful when putting your heart out there
Because in this world there are bound to be thieves
You say you're never going to fall for that
But you haven't seen it all yet

Please don't get me wrong, bad things might not happen to you
Please believe me when I say I hope all your wishes come true
All your wishes come true

None of us have seen it all
None of us have seen it all
None of us have seen it all yet

None of us have seen it all
None of us have seen it all
None of us have seen it all yet
