Anew

These feelings embrace me, surrounds me Quakes the ground under my feet Knowing the past is never more alive Than within me...

Like the picture of you in Italy Two kids I never knew And the story of how this begun. How I begun...

Remembering another era lost, Walks we took in spring Your footprints in the snow And mine inside yours

I keep finding parts of me, that is you but there is no-one else in the world I'd rather be every single piece of history becomes anew Gadget