

Gunslinger

Ghoultown

it was a lonely day in hell that I met you soul searching for the light of day I heard a voice in the devil's darkness I saw a grinnin bird of prey you cleared your leather and the rain came down they had it comin some would say chorus:

gunslinger - the red sky is fallin gunslinger - the chains of your soul gunslinger - we all meet our maker you gunned those zombies down her eyes were two twin silver dollar moons they burned from heaven in your song she blew away just like a dirge in the desert you closed your eyes then she's gone you begged the shadows please release her they just laughed and crawled away you'll drift eternal til you find her the world has long since moved away you filled the grave with two dark angels for what they did they had to pay
