

We said the words at the same time
Left our bodies in the other room
Let's close the circle from inside
And step into each other's déjà vu

Images repeat as our hearts beat
The executioner seems confused
Black eyes telling white lies
Falling off the edge of forever with you

There's blood on the screen
The lights are flashing on the floor
Everything still looks the same
But I don't think I'm me anymore

There's blood on the screen
The lights are flashing on the floor
Everything still looks the same
But I don't think I'm me anymore

"You will be obsessively drawn to near-death experience and a desire to connect with all the people you kill
You will become mad, you will become lost
Then if you survive that, you will become death."

Let's forget our names at the same time

You can be me and I can be you
Levitate under the stars tonight
Looking for secrets hidden in the moon

The cycle completes in a heartbeat
Some dreams can never come true
Black eyes telling white lies
Falling off the edge of forever with you

There's blood on the screen
The lights are flashing on the floor
Everything still looks the same
But I don't think I'm me anymore

There's blood on the screen
The lights are flashing on the floor
Everything still looks the same
But I don't think I'm me anymore

There's blood on the screen
The lights are flashing on the floor

There's blood on the screen
There's blood on the screen
There's blood on the screen
But I don't think I'm me anymore
