God Module

Behind the farthest star
A lifetime away from where we are
Don't second guess the mistakes you've made
Living in the past were born in the grave
Let's count the f*cks that I never gave
About anything that you ever had to say

You can watch me fall
Through a cracked display
Everything I am seems so far away
I think I'm almost gone
How many more days
They all seem the same to me
As they slip away

Have you ever felt like everything is dead

Or that I was playing god inside your f*cking head
Casting the spells to lock you in
This infinite loop where this night never ends
We're not alive but we still pretend
To kill each other again and again and again

You can watch me fall
Through a cracked display
Everything I am seems so far away
I think I'm almost gone
How many more days
They all seem the same to me
As they slip away
