

You can take my place here
I've seen all I want to see
Know all I want to know
You can wear my face dear
There's nothing left to hide
When you're the star of the show

Now the curtain calls
From the other side
The things I'm showing you are all in my mind
You're the disease now
You're the one crying now
I'd love to end it but I don't have the time

Did I ever have control?
Would I have stopped it if I knew what I know now
A psychological dependency
Reconstructed for you and me
Could I ever let this go?
Sometimes I feel like I'm supposed to say no now
A chemical instability
The lights go low as we start the scene

Where can we go from here?
I walk past the graves
That spell out the name
The strange thing is that I don't fear
Dying tonight
I'm scared of being alive

Now the curtain calls
From the other side
The things I'm showing you are all in my mind
You're the disease now
You're the one crying now
I'd love to kill you but I don't have the time

Did I ever have control?
Would I have stopped it if I knew what I know now
A psychological dependency
Reconstructed for you and me
Could I ever let this go?
Sometimes I feel like I'm supposed to say no now
A chemical instability
The lights go low as we start the scene
