Epos

Fallen heroes in my journey of death These shattered souls of loss Guiding the trail of forgotten past As their moaning chants arise

Cold yet alive - left to arise

I proceed down the river of blood My dead heart races on And I feel more alive than ever Can this be my path to home?

Cold yet alive - left to arise

Age of stone lost in a realm of doom Souls of black roam these lonely halls I return to the throne of dust and it seems to be alive Ashes and bones forever my future holds

Draped in sin, hollow eyes Endless Procession of Souls Guiding the spirits away from the light
