    Am                  C                 F
1. Stayed awake for hours again last night
                                            Am
    Searching for the reason to keep up the fight
              C                F
    I've made choices I don't regret
    I've got problems I don't get

2. I didn't want to carry the heavier load
    You can't always take the middle road
    There comes a time when you make up your mind
    And the point gets left behind

                        G                 F
R: Oh, let's wait one more day for the conversation
    C               G
    One more day to make it right.
                            F
    Lets, get away from the confrontation
    Am                C
    One more day just buying time

3. For years and years you can drift alone
    And write another verse to an endless song
    Wait one more day 'til the time is right
    Hoping you both see the light

R: Oh, let's wait...

    Am        G              F
*: I'm not afraid to sleep alone
    Am        G          F
    I'm not afraid to be alone.

4. Stayed awake for hours again last night
    Searching for the reason to keep up the fight
    I've made choices I don't regret
    I've got problems and problems and problems

R: Oh, let's wait...
