

Birthday Wish

Greg Laswell

A big bouquet of balloons
Some green and red and then some blue
And maybe I'll add a color too
And find a strong rope and tie them all to you

I'll watch you float like you always do
And I'll watch you soar like your mother wanted you to
And I'll watch you deflate like I know you always do
In front of anyone that has ever loved you

Yeah, this is my birthday wish for you
For you to fly away on a big bouquet of balloons
And you know it

A big bouquet of balloons
Some green and red and then some blue
And maybe I'll add a color too
And find a strong rope and tie them all to you

I'll watch you float like you always do
And I'll watch you soar like your sweet mother wanted you to
And I'll watch you deflate like I know you always do
In front of anyone that has ever loved you

This is my birthday wish for you
You spoiled thing, I hope you get what's coming to you

Don't you know it?
Don't you know it?
Ah

Don't you know it?
Don't you know it?
Ah

Don't you know it?
