

Nobody

Greyson Chance

Maybe it's toxic
Maybe you're right
We should see other people
Trust me, I've tried

The posters in my bedroom still remind me of you
I probably shouldn't call you but I kinda want to
I hate myself the next day every time that I do, mhm mhm
We're no good together and I should know better but

God damn, I could use a little company
Your hands like the way they feel all over me
Quicksand, pull me under, I don't need to breathe
Every night, you get it right
Nobody know my body like you (Ooh)
Hey now, nobody know my body like you (Ooh)

I went home with someone new
I wanted revenge
All I did was think of you
My body, my lips

Your fingers slipping up my shirt, the way that it felt
How you navigated me like nobody else?
When we go back to enemies, yeah, I'll hate myself, mhm
We're no good together and I should know better but

God damn, I could use a little company
Your hands like the way they feel all over me
Quicksand, pull me under, I don't need to breathe
Every night, you get it right
Nobody know my body like you (Ooh)
Hey now, nobody know my body like you (Ooh)

Nobody know my body, nobody know my body
Nobody know my body like—
Nobody know my body like—, nobody like—, nobody like—
Nobody know my body, nobody on my body
Nobody know my body like—
Nobody know my body like—, nobody like—, nobody like—

God damn, I could use a little company
Your hands like the way they feel all over me
Quicksand, pull me under, I don't need to breathe
Every night, you get it right
Nobody know my body like you (Ooh)
Hey now, nobody know my body like you (Ooh)
Nobody know my body like—
