

There For You

H.E.A.T

You and me we share the same déjà vu something tells me I cant live without you and every second every breath that I take I realize there's a choice I must make

You brought my life baby out of control you are in charge of my body and soul

I don't wanna be here but I wanna be there for you There's a feeling I get that makes it harder to live for a dream right now

It makes it harder to live

You're not so pressured you lay down your defenses you made a promise to come to your senses
A burning question running deep through my veins
Will I'm still glow in the rain

You brought my life baby out of control
With every heartbeat of my body and soul
I don't wanna be here but I wanna be there for you
There's a feeling I get that makes it harder
to live for a dream right now