

Take You Home

Hardline

I couldn't believe that your touch was for me
The tenderness after the bitterness you've seen
I wouldn't have dreamed of the bond that we had
But here we are now alone

And where did we go wrong?
When did we fall apart?
All that emotion has gone away

Woah, love is gonna take you home
What of this life is worth fighting for?
Woah, love is gonna take you home to me
To me

I still remember those eyes were all for me
A question in your heart, what was lost, why can't it be
Let's forgive and forget what we've known

'Cause here we are now alone

And where did we go wrong?
When did we fall apart?
Now that emotion has gone away

Woah, love is gonna take you home
What of this life is worth fighting for?
Woah, love is gonna take you home to me

I'm standing tall, even if I have a storm inside
I look so strong, but I'm a leaf ready to fall

Woah, love is gonna take you home
What of this life is worth fighting for?
Woah, love is gonna take you home to me

Woah, to me...
Woah, to me!
Come home to me...
