

Ya it's time that we all draw the line
Stop living in a world of make believe
Silence the words of the divine
They only twist and distort reality
I can't deny we've lost our way
There will be sacrifice and hell to pay
We're riding blind on the seven seas
The gods of anarchy
Have shone down
They're coming down
To defile all humanity
The clock is ticking on your soul
We'll live our lives out in anarchy
No stars in the sky to align
Fear has taken hold
Of every heart and mind
They say that hope never dies
But the rains fallin' down
And the well has run dry
I can't deny we've lost our way
There will be sacrifice and hell to pay
We're riding blind on the seven seas
The gods of anarchy
Have shone down

They're coming down
To defile all humanity
The clock is ticking on your soul
We'll live our lives out in anarchy
Now the dark will take hold
As you run to the light
And you'll float along 'til out of sight
Now there are only two worlds
You don't get to decide
Where you go or if you'll reach
The other side
Now the dark will take hold
As you run to the light
And you'll float along 'til out of sight
Now there are only two worlds
You don't get to decide
Where you go or if you'll reach
The other side
We're riding blind on the seven seas
The gods of anarchy
Have shone down
They're coming down
To defile all humanity
The clock is ticking on your soul
We'll live our lives out in anarchy
