

Looking Back

Harem Scarem

Well I remember all the nights you came to me
You said you wanted more from life
Wanted anything more then me

Would you believe I was happy at the time
Thoughts of you still wonder in my mind

Every time we said goodbye
It took another tear from my eye
Looking back I'm not the lucky one

Now your face is just a haunting memory
And I wander if as time goes on
If you ever think of me

All the time my heart was aching
You walked into the room
Just at the time I thought I'd give in
I found someone new
